

Teri Weber/ CMS

The search for a more fulfilling career led Teri Weber to the education profession. Weber has been a teacher for 17 years and has been a science and social studies teacher in Carroll ISD since 1999. She has taught at Carroll Intermediate School, Durham Intermediate School and presently teaches at Carroll Middle School where she serves as this year's campus teacher of the year. After working in the business world, Weber went back to school and received her teacher certification from California State University. Weber credits her older sister, who is a teacher, with inspiring her to help young students achieve their dreams.
