

Summer Reading Assignment

Read the memoir :
Playing With The Enemy
by Gary W. Moore.

You will participate in class discussions, activities, and writing assignments over this material during the first three weeks of school in August.

You will also be tested over the material in this non-fiction memoir.

- Abridged versions are not acceptable.
- Reviewing Spark Notes does not substitute for reading.

The book may be purchased from Barnes and Noble or from the CHS library.

Moore's Playing with the Enemy is a story -- inspired by true events -- of Gene Moore, a Navy seaman who taught prisoners of German U-boat U-505 how to play baseball. Author Gary Moore did not learn of his father's remarkable story until the day before Gene Moore's death.

National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum
Published: 08/11/2008 2:49 PM ET

Carroll High School Veteran's Day Program

Author Gary W. Moore will be discussing and signing copies of Playing with the Enemy: A Baseball Prodigy, a World at War, and a Field of Broken Dreams. Hear Gary talk about his father's baseball career during WWII and show your love for America's favorite pastime!